NETFLIX "MAKING A MURDERER" documentary subjects Steven Avery, & Brendan Dassey don't have a monopoly on wrongful convictions.

@www.PrisonFoundation.org in non-fiction section I've authored my book "JT's story of Justice Denied." 11 page must read introduction with 122 pages of twist & turns of self-deprecating crimes that contributed to 35 year wrongful conviction of an innocent man.

Friday 13th Nov. 98 Madison WI.
I was victimized by false police report from 17 year old Paula K. dob 3/29/81 in revenge for stealing marijuana dealer Steven L. leather coat.

She lied claiming unknown b/m abducts her off state st. Sunday midnight Nov. 8th 12 hours until Monday noon Nov 9 & forces an act of fellatio.

Events that never occurred.

Due to an alleged 5 day delayed reaction in reporting no DNA sexual assault victim kit swab of her mouth taken.

Nov. 18 with dealer in police cruiser I'm arrested on University Ave.

Bench Trial Judge, court appointed defense Attorney; ADA were myopic & overzealous due to racial stereotype profile railroading me.

UW Innocence Project refuses assisting me because no DNA sample exist that excludes me while simultaneously pointing to a real perpetrator of crime.

Credibility determination verdict.

Please pay it forward reading my book & overwhelm me arm chair detective pen/pals with random act of kindness introductory letters.

The LAWS MANTRA: It is just as important to free an innocent person as it is to convict a guilty one.

During mail, canteen & phone passes ridiculed for inability to receive grassroots support system correspondences, afford bare necessities & make collect calls.
